Rutgers, The State University

Rutgers, The State University, began as a struggling colonial college before the Revolution. Founded in 1766 by Dutch pioneers, Rutgers was originally called Queens College under a charter from King George III of England. The young college's existence was threatened by the Revolution, but growth followed that conflict, just as unprecedented expansion was experienced after the last World War.

Rutgers was given its present name in 1825, after generous gifts had been received from Colonel Henry Rutgers, a New York philanthropist. Forty years later it was designated the Land Grant College of New Jersey, the liberal arts course was enlarged, and courses leading to bachelor degrees in agriculture and engineering were added.

In 1902 a ceramics department was established, New Jersey College for Women with its own New Brunswick campus, was founded in 1918; the School of Education added in 1923; and in 1925 the Extension Division for non-degree education and the School of Journalism were established. The College of Pharmacy was added in 1927. University College, degree-granting evening division, was established in 1934, and Newark University was merged with Rutgers in 1946. In 1945, the State Legislature brought all divisions of Rutgers within the designation of the State University of New Jersey. In 1950, an act of the State Legislature incorporated the College of South Jersey in Camden, including a two-year liberal arts college and a law school, into the State University as the Rutgers College of South Jersey. The liberal arts college has since expanded to a four-year curriculum. In April, 1955, N.J.C. was renamed Douglass College. In 1956, under a reorganization program, the University was officially designated, Rutgers, The State University, and came under the management of an 11-man Board of Governors.

Dr. Mason W. Gross, the 16th president of the University, was inaugurated in May, 1959.

Rutgers, The State University, currently is in the midst of a nearly $50,000,000 construction program largely financed through passage in 1959 of a state bond issue for higher education.

Helpful Facts About Rutgers

Rutgers Color—Scarlet Nicknames—Scarlet Knights, Queensmen

Best Rutgers Record—Although it never has gone undefeated, Rutgers has three times had 8-1 records (1947, 1958 and 1960).

Rutgers Training Camp—Rutgers drills from Aug. 31 until the opening of school on its regular scrimmage field adjacent to the Stadium. The team lives in a dormitory several hundred yards away from the practice field until classes begin.

Football Offices—The coaches have offices in the Gymnasium and in the new addition to the Stadium Field House.

Rutgers Enrollment—The football team is a representative of the entire State University population of approximately 16,000 full-time undergraduate students, although all members of the squad are among the 4,100 students in the Men's Colleges in New Brunswick.

Curriculums Offered—The Men's Colleges include Arts & Sciences, Engineering and Agriculture.

Enrollment—Part of the booming State University, the Men's Colleges will probably have an enrollment of 6,000 by 1965.

The Rutgers Coaching Staff

John F. Bateman, Head Coach

FEW COACHES have enjoyed the immediate success that John Bateman had last fall, his first as a college head coach after 14 seasons as an assistant. Rutgers had an 8-1 record, beat Princeton the third time in a row, won the Middle Atlantic and Middle Three championships.

Bateman, who was an assistant at Columbia under Lou Little for 11 years and at Penn under Steve Sebo from 1957 through 1959, is a native New Jersey. He attended Central High and St. Benedict's prep in Newark before entering Columbia in 1934. He played guard under Little at Columbia, captaining the 1937 Lion eleven. He returned to Columbia as an assistant in 1946 after three years in the Navy and three years as coach at Middletown, N. Y., High School.

The holder of a master's degree in political science and a doctorate in education from Columbia, Dr. Bateman is Rutgers' 15th football coach since 1900. He and his wife have three sons. They live in Highland Park.

Matthew J. Bolger, Jr., End Coach

MATT BOLGER is the "senior" member of the Rutgers staff, having served four years under John Stiegman. Born and raised in Newark, he was graduated from Cornell in 1948 and came to Rutgers in 1956 after five years at Brown University. A graduate of St. Benedict's Prep, he entered Notre Dame in 1940, but service in the Marine Air Corps from 1942 to 1945 interrupted his schooling. Bolger led Rutgers' baseball team to a 15-4-1 record last spring, his first as diamond coach. He and his wife have three children. They live in Edison Township.

DeWayne "Dewey" King, Backfield Coach

IN HIS SECOND season at Rutgers, Dewey King is a graduate of the University of North Dakota where he was a center and captained the varsity football team as a sophomore. A native of Cando, N. D., King served as an assistant coach at Michigan State in 1952-53, then joined Steve Sebo's staff at Penn, where he was a fellow assistant with John Bateman from 1957 to 1959. King and his wife have one son. They live in New Brunswick.

Warren Schmakiel, Line Coach

AN ASSISTANT coach at the University of Nebraska from 1957 to 1959, Warren Schmakiel is in his second season as Rutgers line coach. A graduate of Central Michigan University, where he was a little All-American guard, Schmakiel is a native of Toledo, O. He has been an assistant at the University of Toledo and Miami of Ohio and in 1950 had a 6-4 record as head coach of his alma mater. A Navy veteran, he worked for the government in Europe from 1953 to 1957. He and his wife and their two children live in Franklin Township.

Frank Burns, Assistant Coach

RUTGERS' ALL-TIME great quarterback, Frank Burns returned to Rutgers last winter after four years at Chatham, N. J., High School. Burns twice previously served Rutgers, first as freshman coach and later as varsity backfield coach. He also was head coach at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore. A native of Roselle Park, Burns was an all-east quarterback and an outstanding catcher on the baseball team as an undergraduate. He and his wife and their three children live in Berkeley Heights.

Robert Naso, Freshman Coach

A 1959 RUTGERS graduate, Bob Naso excelled in football and lacrosse as a player and has advanced in two years to be varsity lacrosse coach and freshman football coach for his alma mater. He has been assistant lacrosse coach for two years and in 1959 coached the 150-pound football team. He and his wife, Carole, live in New Brunswick. They have one daughter.

Rutgers Athletic Administration

Albert W. Twitchell, Director of Athletics

AFTER A distinguished coaching career which terminated last June, Albert W. Twitchell on July 1 succeeded Harry J. Rockafeller as director of athletics at Rutgers. A 1935 graduate of the University, Twitchell has been a member of the staff since 1947 as a coach and administrator.

Twitchell won six varsity letters as an undergraduate, captaining the 1934 football team as center and winning the Donald Leslie Coursen trophy, highest individual athletic award given at the University.

A native of Dedham, Mass., he began his coaching career at North Plainfield, N. J., High School. He went to Sewanhaka High School in 1937, served later as assistant football coach at Hofstra College, then returned to Sewanhaka as head coach of football and lacrosse until 1947.

He coached sub-varsity football and freshman lacrosse at Rutgers until he became varsity line coach in 1949 and succeeded his own former coach, Fred Fitch, as varsity lacrosse mentor in 1950. During his 12 seasons as lacrosse coach, his teams won 90 games, lost 31 and tied one. He became assistant to the director of athletics in 1952, later was named assistant director.

Twitchell is past president of the U. S. Lacrosse Coaches Assn. and is president of Intercollegiate Lacrosse Assn. He coached the North all-star team in 1953 and was named "lacrosse coach of the year" in 1958.

Kenneth G. Germann, Assistant Director

NEW TO THE Rutgers staff, Ken Germann is a veteran coach and administrator. A 1943 graduate of Columbia University, he was an outstanding football and basketball player as an undergraduate. A marine corps veteran, he spent 11 years as director of athletics and football coach at Iona Prep in New Rochelle, N. Y. He has been freshman football coach at Columbia the last four years. Germann has been one of the East's top basketball and lacrosse officials for 15 years. He holds a master's degree from Columbia Teachers College.

Otto H. Hill, Business Manager

PPROMOTED TO the newly-created position of business manager of athletics last July, Otto Hill has been a member of the Rutgers staff since 1947. A 1942 graduate of Rutgers, he served in the Army and Air Force during World War II, returning to earn his master's degree in 1947. He coached junior varsity and freshman football, moving up to the varsity as end coach in 1953, a post he held through 1955. He was freshman swimming coach from 1947 until 1956, when he succeeded Jim Reilly as varsity swimming coach. He has relinquished that post to take over his present assignment and direct the University's aquatics program.

The Outlook — 1961

Lettermen Returning: 16; Lettermen Lost: 12

With possibly the finest backfield in the east, a squad of experienced ends, and strong men Alex Kroll and Tony Simonelli up front, Rutgers is looking forward to its fifth consecutive winning season in 1961.

Coach John Bateman and his line aide, Warren Schmakel, will have to plug a number of vacancies up front, but the expected improvement of last year's substitutes and the availability of a large group of beefy sophomores is expected to put that task within reach.

Kroll, the captain, has been named to a number of pre-season All-American teams. He gives the Scarlet perfect leadership in the forward wall where experience is lacking.

The backfield situation has coaches Dewey King and Frank Burns suppressing grins. Their chief problem will be to keep their pupils happy with enough work.

Bateman and his staff are anxious to continue the alternate unit system which contributed a great deal to the Scarlet's 1960 success. The coaches will be searching for the best 22 players, not just 11, by opening day.

The first four formed last year's "blue" unit which moved so well. Speranza, an inspirational quarterback who runs and passes effectively, more than likely will continue to direct this quartet which has the powerful Simms at fullback. Steve, possibly the East's best fullback had spectacular success last year and must be "defensed" by the Scarlet's opponents if they are to contend with Bateman's versatile double-wing T.

Simms' rushing average was 6.01. His mates, Thompson and Frauenheim, had averages of 5.9 and 5.7, respectively. Thompson is a legitimate triple-threat and Frauenheim is "Mr. Reliable." Pierce didn't lose a yard all year and is being counted on to supplant Army Byrd in the deep secondary as the ace pass defender.

If Yaksick, who was a defensive specialist most of last year, fulfills his promise at quarterback, Mudie may move to left half, where he'll team with Webb and Kowalski in the alternate unit.

Standout sophomores like quarterbacks Dwain Painter and Joe Bujak, halfbacks Bill Herring, Doug Reeser and Ritchie Poad, and fullback Andy Carollo; and last year's reserves—Joe Anstatt, Romeo Dixon, Keith Krayner and Jim Takacs—give the Scarlet at least four solid backfield units.

Helping Kroll open the holes up front will be Simonelli, cited by a Rutgers coach last year as "the best sophomore lineman he'd ever seen; Tom Tappen, who moves in from end to take over right tackle; Addison Bradley and Bob Harrison, lettermen guards. Finding a second line and reserve strength at all interior line positions will occupy the pre-season training period.

Matt Bolger has four solid ends in Marv Engle, Lee Curley, Dick Lawrence and Bill Craft. Juniors Jerry Melkon and Ron Egan also saw some duty a year ago, giving the Scarlet six experienced flankmen.

In summation, the Scarlet has an All-American center, an all-east fullback, a talented and deep backfield, adequate protection at the ends, and a fine left tackle.

The problem will be to mold a capable set of lines, with finding depth at center and the guards likely to cause the most headaches.

Of the 12 lettermen lost, halfback Byrd and guard Larry Brown will be the hardest to replace. Byrd was a brilliant pass catcher, pass defender and safety man under punts and kickoffs. Brown excelled at leading the halfback sweeps and playing the middle guard on defense.

The Leading Scarlet Knights

The 1961 Captain

ALEX KROLL, senior center. Touted by many as the best center in the country, Alex already has been named to several pre-season All-American teams. His performance and leadership in 1960 helped Rutgers to a season which surpassed even the most optimistic of the previews. He has size, speed, hustle, and an uncanny ability to call defenses best equipped to stop the enemy. A graduate of Leechburg, Pa., High School, he is a Henry Rutgers Scholar in English. (See story page 22)

Ends

DON CORY, senior. Once again tabbed for relief duty . . . Has been spot player in past . . . Occasionally kicks off . . . Is strong but lacks speed . . . One of standout members of the wrestling team . . . Graduate of Hackettstown High. . . . Mechanized Agriculture major.

BILL CRAFT, junior. A jayvee last season, Bill should be a three-sport letterman in 1961-62 . . . Was key reserve in basketball, is high jumper on the track team. . . . In limited varsity duty, intercepted on pass for TD . . . Exceptionally strong, good speed . . . Riverside High graduate, physical education major.

LEE CURLEY, senior. Blessed with an abundance of ability, Lee should be ready for regular duty . . . Improved greatly and earned letter last year . . . Has good speed, excellent reach, caught pass for 56-yard TD against Columbia . . . Starred on mound for Scarlet baseball team . . . Bridgeton High graduate, Business major.

RON EGAN, junior. A jayvee last season, Ron may be ready to move up the ladder this fall . . . Blocking ability almost made him candidate for shift to guard . . . Ramapo Regional High graduate, engineering major

MARV ENGLE, senior. Marv should rank as the Scarlet's number one pass catcher in 1961 . . . Caught eight last year, including one for winning TD against Bucknell . . . Fastest of the wingmen . . . Plays the split end . . . Has earned two letters . . . Graduate of Kingston (N. Y.) High . . . Mechanical engineering student.

BOB FLOWER, sophomore. A regular on the 1959 freshman eleven, Bob sat out last fall, concentrating on his studies . . . Is strong and eager, could upset the pre-season depth pattern if he can overcome being away a year . . . Alumnus of Emmaus, Pa., High, physical education student.

DICK LAWRENCE, senior. Shifted from quarterback to end early last year, Dick developed into capable flankman . . . Performed creditably on defense and caught four passes . . . Was letterman blocking back as sophomore in single wing . . . Phillipsburg High graduate, physical education major.

JOHN (JERRY) MELKON, junior. Huge improvement was noticed in Jerry last fall when he added 20 pounds to his frame and delighted Bolger with his "hitting" . . . Good blocker and defender . . . Could press the regulars . . . Manasquan High graduate, biological sciences student.

Tackles

PAT DILEMMA, senior. After earning a letter as a sophomore, Pat couldn't crack the first two units last fall . . . He's hoping to lose some weight and play a more active role this fall . . . Is former fullback at Paterson Central . . . Majoring in physical education.

GEORGE ELIAS, junior. A member of the third unit in 1960, Elias is expected to be a contender for one of the top two units this year . . . Was regular guard on 1959 frosh eleven, started as guard last fall . . . Alumnus of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., High . . . Business Administration student.

AUGUST (GUS) GIEBELHAUS, sophomore. Just a "growing boy," 18-year old Giebelhaus was a frosh regular last year but sprained an ankle . . . Graduation of three of the top tackles affords him opportunity to play this fall . . . Was co-captain at Rahway High School . . . Majoring in history.

TONY SIMONELLI, junior. Some of the Rutgers coaches claimed Simonelli was the best sophomore lineman they ever saw last year . . . Ranks as the Scarlet's number one tackle . . . Incredibly strong and filled with desire . . . Says little, works hard . . . Attended Swedesboro High . . . Education major.

TOM TAPPEN, junior. A knee injury almost halted Tappen's football playing last year, but he earned a letter at end in a late-season comeback . . . He's been shifted to tackle to fill graduate-created void, is ranked on first unit on depth chart . . . Attended Delbarton School . . . Physical education major.

CHARLES WALKER, sophomore. Walker helped the Scarlet freshmen in two sports, playing regularly at tackle and wrestling in the heavyweight division . . . Is probably the top-ranking sophomore at this position . . . Graduate of Greenbrier Military School, majoring in chemical engineering.

BOB WHITE, junior. Holding down his weight is the key to whether Bob will make the top units. Had to put extra time in on books last year, was frosh regular in '59 . . . Weight jumps between 230-260 . . . Attended South River High and Peddie School . . . Political science major.

Guards

ADDISON BRADLEY, junior. Brad earned a letter last fall with late-season spurt. . . . Although slotted at guard, he could move over to tackle . . . Lacks real quickness, but is strong and agile . . . Is pole vaulter and hammer thrower for track team . . . Attended Woodrow Wilson High, Camden . . . Agriculture major.

JOHN CHADWICK, sophomore. A tackle on last season's frosh team, Chadwick has been moved to guard to bulwark position shorn most severely by graduation. . . . Has good movements, is rated chance of playing regularly . . . Graduate of Haverhill (Mass.) High . . . Engineering major.

TOM HAMILTON, sophomore. The ranking sophomore guard, Hamilton is a solid 200-pounder who is almost a sure-shot to earn a regular job . . . Has good speed as evidenced by his playing midfield for frosh lacrosse team . . . Attended Uniondale, N. Y., High . . . Agriculture major.

BOB HARRISON, senior. Probably the fastest guard in the east, Bob is light (175) but did some effective blocking in leading the halfback sweeps last fall . . . Also is useful as a crashing linebacker . . . It's "no contest" when he sprints against other linemen . . . Connellsville High (Pa.) graduate . . . Business student.

JOHN HAUSER, sophomore. The squad's "senior" citizen, 25-year-old Hauser is a veteran of Navy service . . . Played football in Navy as well at Rodger Ludlowe High, Fairfield, Conn. . . . Spent last season shedding excess poundage, could make first two units in '61 . . . Education student.

JOHN HURT, junior. A blocking back as a freshman, Hurt started last year at fullback, was shifted to guard in mid-season, and ranks as a potential member of the first two units . . . Fills Bateman's initial requirement for a guard—speed . . . Attended Fayetteville, W. Va., High . . . Studying ceramic engineering.

TOM KIETRYS, junior. A junior varsity player a year ago, Tom must battle the sophomores for right to move up this season . . . Knee injury slowed him late in '60 . . . Attended Hackettstown High . . . Majoring in education.

TOM ORUM, senior. A jayvee for the last two seasons, Orum was a back but has been moved to guard to give him opportunity to play and reward his faithful-

TOM RANKIN, junior. Making the jump from the jayvees to the varsity is Rankin's goal this fall, although the competition from the sophomores will be stiff . . . Graduate of Hempfield Area High, Penn. Pa. . . . Ceramics student.

Centers

ALEX KROLL, senior. (See beginning of section.)

GARRETT FLAKER, sophomore. One of two sophomores who will be vying for the right to relieve Alex Kroll, Flaker was the number two frosh pivotman . . . Was co-captain of team at Ramapo Regional High . . . Liberal Arts student.

TOM KOCAJ, senior. A veteran of every line position, Kocaj showed well backing up the line in the 1960 finale against Columbia and has a shot at the second unit job . . . Started last year as guard, finally moved to center, post he played at LaSalle High, Niagara Falls . . . Economics student.

BILL LIBBY, senior. After lettering as a sophomore, Bill had his troubles last fall, spending most of his time riding bench at guard . . . Now back at post he played as freshman and at Kenmore, N. Y., High . . . Started several games as soph . . . Majoring in economics.

JON PAULSON, sophomore. No less than eight fullbacks were on frosh eleven last year and Jon had little chance to show his ability . . . Is interested in shift to center, however, and may help squad in new post . . . Was top athlete at Tenafly High . . . Played frosh lacrosse . . . Philosophy major.

Quarterbacks

JOSEPH BUJAK, sophomore. Were the Scarlet's depth at this post not so strong, Bujak and classmate Painter might be potential regulars . . . Ran second frosh unit last fall, probably will do service with jayvees this year . . . Attended Benedictine High, Cleveland . . . Liberal Arts student.

SAM MUDIE, senior. An outstanding punter, good runner and passer, Mudie has been a regular two years . . . Abundance of talent at QB may prompt a shift for him to halfback . . . Ranks as one of the nation's best punters . . . Scored four and passed for four TDs last year . . . Co-captain elect of lacrosse team, president of class . . . Attended Bensalem High (Pa.) . . . Mechanical engineering student.

DWAIN PAINTER, sophomore. The freshman co-captain, Painter faces a "learning" year behind the returning varsity signal callers . . . Played freshman baseball, is capable gymnast . . . Graduate of Gateway High, Monroeville, Pa. . . . Physical education student.

BILL SPERANZA, senior. Rutgers "blue" unit moved exceptionally well last fall under the direction of Speranza . . . Inspires great confidence in teammates, runs the option well, hit 20 of 36 passes . . . He's quick, if not fast . . . Was regular catcher for baseball team, hitting .333 . . . Philipsburg High (Pa.) graduate . . . Physical education student.

BOB YAKSICK, junior. Used primarily as a corner man on defense, Yaksick showed flashes of brilliance on offense . . . He loves to carry ball, is big, strong and fast . . . Bateman's wish is to use him offensively, perhaps making Mudie a halfback . . . Pass defense expert . . . Graduate of Clairton (Pa.) High . . . Education major.

Halfbacks

JOE ANSTATT, senior. The success of the top halfbacks gave Joe little chance to run last fall . . . Was on third unit, played with jayvees . . . May be given chance to play corner on defense this fall . . . Attended Glassboro High . . . Mechanical engineering student.

BILL BENNETT, sophomore. A speedy third-unit frosh quarterback last season, Bennett has been shifted to right half where his speed may be put to use . . .

ROMEO DIXON, junior. Dixon was fast but inconsistent last fall, played with junior varsity . . . Runs the 100 in 10.3 . . . Ran the sprints and broad jumped for track team last spring . . . Attended Swedesboro High . . . Education major.

PIERCE FRAUENHEIM, senior. "Mr. Consistency" of the backfield . . . Pierce gained ground on every rush last fall, averaged 5.8 per carry . . . Is the unsung member of what might be the east's best backfield . . . Excellent pass catcher, is being counted on to be reliable pass defender . . . Attended Aspinwall High, Pittsburgh . . . Education major.

BILL HERRING, sophomore. A pulled hamstring muscle handicapped Bill last fall on the freshman team, but he has the reputation of excelling in the open field . . . Was a quarterback at Marple-Newtown (Pa.) High . . . Played lacrosse for frosh last spring . . . Economics student.

KEITH KRAYER, junior. Keith saw some spot duty at fullback last fall and came through satisfactorily . . . Has sufficient speed and elusiveness to warrant shift to halfback where he's listed high on depth chart . . . Attended Scranton Central (Pa.) . . . Majoring in physical education.

RITCHIE POAD, sophomore. Pod was the second half of the potent 1-2 knockout punch the 1960 frosh had at fullback . . . He's fast enough to merit chance at halfback for the future . . . Played frosh baseball last spring . . . Attended Elyria (O.) High . . . Majoring in biological sciences.

DOUG REESER, sophomore. A 10.2 sprinter for the frosh track team, 6-1, 195-pound Reeser is one of the biggest halfbacks Rutgers has had recently . . . Could push the regulars for honors . . . Excelled at Scranton (Pa.) Central . . . Majoring in industrial engineering.

BILL THOMPSON, junior. You'd hardly expect a 5-10, 197-pounder to fill the requirements at halfback, but Bill did nobly last season . . . He has good speed, runs with good balance, can pass and catch . . . He worked hard on defense and acquitted himself well there, too . . . Competed in five events for track team, setting shot record . . . New Brunswick High graduate . . . Studying agricultural research.

DICK WEBB, senior. Webb had a so-so year last year, but experienced a full season without injury for the first time in three years and may be ready to reach peak this fall . . . Ran the 440 for track team, is co-captain elect . . . Married, has two sons . . . Attended Nichols School, Buffalo . . . Social studies major.

Fullbacks

ANDY CAROLLO, sophomore. The leading ground gainer on the 1960 frosh squad, Andy runs with both speed and power . . . His mates kiddingly claim "He'll make an All-American out of Simms". . . Was captain of the team at Monessen High (Pa.) . . . Majoring in biological sciences.

JOE KOWALSKI, senior. A defensive "specialist" most of last year, Kowalski did some pretty good running, picking up 134 yards in 23 carries without a loss . . . Scored two TDs . . . Played line-backing post . . . May carry ball more this year . . . Is defenseman in lacrosse . . . Attended Johnsonburg (Pa.) High . . . Majoring in agricultural economics.

STEVE SIMMS, senior. Probably the best fullback in the east, Steve gained more than six yards a try last fall . . . Had exceptional days against Lafayette and Columbia, gaining over 100 yards each game . . . Led Scarlet in scoring . . . Had TD runs of 27, 47 and 56 yards . . . Charleston High (W. Va.) graduate . . . Political science major.

JIM TAKACS, senior. Jim displayed speed and drive in scrimmage and with the jayvees while operating from halfback last year and could help the Scarlet at fullback this fall . . . He's a hometown boy who spent a year at Colby College . . . Co-captained New Brunswick High . . . Played baseball last spring . . . Majoring in political science.

PRINCETON PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 12; Lettermen Lost: 17

Dick Colman, the Princeton coach, considers 1961 a "genuine rebuilding year," and no wonder. He lost six of seven starting linemen and his first two fullbacks and tailbacks at graduation. For the first time in many years, the Tigers will open a season without an established "star" back, unless wingback Dan Terpack fills that specification.

Princeton traditionally is reluctant to rely on sophomores, but Colman may be forced to do so. Center is the weak spot, with no experience on hand. There is only one letterman tackle available and two lettermen guards. The ends are well staffed. Greg Riley, a defensive back last year, is the heir apparent at tailback.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 13, Princeton 8

After a scoreless first half, Bill Tully's 83-yard run and Paul Benke's kick gave Rutgers a 7-0 lead in the third period. Silky Sullivan returned a punt all the way for a Tiger fourth period score and Sullivan passed to Hank Large for two points to make it 8-7.

However, Sullivan fumbled with 5:30 to go in the game and a series of plays from the Princeton 38 led to a score by Sam Mudie (sneak) with just 1:09 to play to give John Bateman a success in his first game as a college coach.

CONNECTICUT PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 16; Lettermen Lost: 13

Finding a quarterback looms as the chief problem for Coach Bob Ingalls. Number one on the depth chart is Gerry McDonough, who completed only one pass and ran for two yards all last year, serving mostly as a defensive back. The halfback situation is exceptionally strong, however, with speedboys Pete Barbarito, Dan Gervasi, Tony Magaletta and Gerry White returning.

A big line, averaging 225 pounds, may be one of the best around. Tackles Bob Treat (258) and John Contoulis (260) and guard and Capt. Fred Stackpole are the strong men up front. The only line weakness appears to be at end where there is no experience.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 19, UConn 6

This was the hardest-hitting, most fiercely-fought game of the year. It was only Rutgers' ability to execute three big plays that provided the margin. Sam Mudie, on a fake field goal attempt, threw a TD strike to Arny Byrd for 16 yards in the first period; Bill Thompson ran through the entire UConn team for 21 yards and a TD in the second quarter; and Steve Simms bolted 56 yards for the third score in the third period.

The Huskies were unable to cross midfield until Rutgers led, 19-0, in the third period, and finally scored in the fourth quarter on Ralph Rinaldi's plunge.

BUCKNELL PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 19; Lettermen Lost: 11

Bucknell for three years has been an exciting team with Paul Terhes at quarterback and last year won the Lambert Cup. Terhes is gone now and with him probably will go the devastating passing attack which Bob Odell featured. Replacing Terhes will be no easy task, but a new quarterback is all Odell needs to keep winning.

The Bisons are amply protected by returnees and newcomers in the line and have a large contingent of returning backs plus some exceptional sophomores. The key will be finding a new QB, with Doug Williams the pre-season favorite.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 23, Bucknell 19

Rutgers and Bucknell played one of the most exciting games ever witnessed last fall. The Scarlet dominated the first half to lead, 15-6, on a touchdown by Bill Speranza and a Speranza-Bill Thompson pass while Bucknell was scoring once on a Paul Terhes-Ron Maslanik pass.

Terhes threw a TD pass to Dick Tyrrell in the third quarter and tossed a 40-yard scoring aerial to Dick Johnson to give Bucknell the lead, 19-15, with 3:08 to play. Rutgers marched back to score on a Sam Mudie-Marv Engle pass with 1:42 to go and held on as Terhes heroically passed his club to the Rutgers 30 before time ran out.

LEHIGH PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 8; Lettermen Lost: 16

Most coaches would be crying after losing eight starters and 16 letter-winners, but Bill Leckonby is hopeful the 1961 Engineers will at least equal last year's model which opened so successfully but faded with injuries. The optimism is based on the return of a formidable tackle tandem of Mike Semcheski and Reed Bohovich and Boyd Taylor, a 205-pound fullback.

In addition, Leckonby feels he has in Walt King the best quarterback candidate since the renowned Dan Nolan. King missed six games last year with injuries. The problem spots appear to be end and guard where graduation struck hard.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 8, Lehigh 0

A penalty in the first period and a fumble in the second halted Rutgers drives for touchdowns, but the Scarlet finally began a march in the third period which culminated at the start of the fourth with Bill Thompson driving over tackle for the TD and a pass from Bill Speranza to Paul Benke for the two points.

Lehigh clicked on a 66-yard pass from John Highland to Al Richmond to the Rutgers 12 late in the game, but Arny Byrd intercepted a pass in the end zone to preserve the win.

PENN PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 15; Lettermen Lost: 14

Penn experienced a conversion year in 1960 similar to the one Rutgers had in 1956, John Stiegman's first at Rutgers. The Quakers now are over the basic single wing lessons and are looking for an improved showing. In Porter Shreve and soph John Owens they have able operatives for the vital tailback slot.

Up front, Penn won't be big, but will have good speed and mobility. Guard Connie DeSantis and center Buzz Joyner figure to be the strong men. Stiegman has been able to juggle his personnel to get a letterman in every position except the strong side end.

LAFAYETTE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 22; Lettermen Lost: 9

With only nine players missing from last year's respectable team, Jim McConlogue is fairly set for 1961, although the sophomore class does not offer much help. He plans to make over his offense from the "I" to the winged-T, a system he used part-time last year.

Strong points appear to be halfback, where talented Walt Doleschal heads a groups of 12 veterans, guard and end. As usual, the Leopards will rely on speed and aggressiveness, not having a great deal of beef with which to thwart the opposition.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 36, Lafayette 8

Rutgers had too much everything for the undermanned Leopards, moving the ball and scoring almost at will. Rutgers gained 422 yards to Lafayette's 217, with 10 backs taking part in the assault. TDs were scored by Steve Simms, who gained 123 yards on the ground personally; Bill Thompson, Joe Kowalski (who gained 69 yards from fullback alternating with Simms); and sophomores Bob Yaksick and Bill Craft.

DELAWARE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 19; Lettermen Lost: 8

Upset by last year's first losing campaign, Admiral Dave Nelson appears ready to sink or swim with the products of last year's unbeaten freshman eleven. A number of position changes have affected the returnees and it may be that inexperience will hamper the Blue Hens in the early exercising.

Top newcomers are backs Mike Brown, John Wallace and Chuck Zolak. In the line, guard Don James and tackle Dick Evers bring speed and size. Tom Michaels, last year's leading ground gainer, will shift from halfback to fullback. Zolak, it is hoped, will fill the quarterback void which has hurt Delaware the last two seasons.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 22, Delaware 0

As usual, Delaware got "up" for Rutgers, but the Scarlet was able to contain the vaunted winged-T attack and struck twice in the second quarter to take control of the game. Rutgers was foiled on an early drive but recovered a fumble and Sam Mudi scored from the three at 4:00 of the second period. Paul Benke kicked a field goal a few minutes later to make it 9-0.

Army Byrd took a screen pass from Mudi and scampered 61 yards for a score at the start of the third period and Joe Kowalski intercepted a fumble and ran 70 yards for a score in the fourth quarter. Delaware fumbled away its only scoring threat, losing possession on the goal line in the third quarter.

COLGATE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 17; Lettermen Lost: 15

Colgate had little difficulty scoring last year, but it had problems holding down the other fellows. As a result, Coach Alva Kelley is concentrating on defense and will continue utilizing his winged-T offense. Starting his third season at Colgate, Kelley has 17 lettermen, including an entire first unit and four second team members. However, he must depend in the main on sophomores for line reserves.

Capt. Ken Kerr, a center, and Paul Jolie, a tackle, are the key linemen. In the backfield, halfback Jacque MacKinnon and quarterback Dan Keating have the most impressive credentials.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 49, Colgate 12

Ten Rutgers backs participated in last year's runaway, with the Scarlet simply overpowering the Red Raiders. Fullback Steve Simms gained 99 yards, halfback Bill Thompson added 65 more and end Paul Benke kicked a field goal for good measure. TDs were scored by Sam Mudie (2), Army Byrd, Simms, Dick Webb, Thompson, and Bob Yaksick.

Quarterback Bob Paske threw to end Jan Hunsinger for the first Colgate score and Ed Abel scored the second one in the fourth period.

COLUMBIA PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 17; Lettermen Lost: 13

The physical condition of Tom Vasell, one of the outstanding passers in the Ivy League, will determine to a great extent what kind of season Columbia will have. He had a great sophomore year, but an ankle injury curtailed his effectiveness last season.

In the line, tackle Bob Asack and center Lee Black are big, strong operatives. Fullback Tom O'Conner and halfback Russ Warren are dependable mates for Vassell, who may have to make room for soph Len Defiore if the latter reaches his potential. In general, Columbia's front-line strength is good, but depth will be a problem.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 43, Columbia 2

Army Byrd closed out a brilliant Rutgers career by making John Bateman's "home-coming" a delight. The little halfback returned the first punt 70 yards for a TD, then intercepted a pass to set up the second score and the rout was on. Steve Simms had a great day, getting 105 yards on the ground. Bill Speranza scored twice on keeper plays and passed to Lee Curley for another.

Other TDs were scored by Bob Yaksick and Bill Thompson. Columbia's only points came when a pass from center went into the end zone over Sam Mudie's head. The game climaxed an 8-1 season, Bateman's first at Rutgers.

Kroll: Scholarly All-American

At least one way to earn All-American honors in football, it would seem, is to enroll in the English curriculum at Rutgers and get elected to the captaincy of the football team.

That's the way it was in 1958, when Bill Austin was named an All-American halfback. And that's the way it may be this fall with Alex Kroll, the Scarlet's center.

Kroll already has been named to a number of All-American teams. They are of the crystal-ball variety, however. "I just hope I can live up to those notices," Kroll said recently. "Ever since I was a kid back in Leechburg, Pa. I've dreamed about seeing the phrase 'All-American' next to my name. I hope that dream comes true."

A brilliant student, Kroll is an equally serious candidate for Phi Beta Kappa. His cumulative average will have to move up about two-tenths of a point this fall, but he's within range. His average has been bolstered by a 1.0 record (all As) in his English major.

Kroll is one of those rare individuals who can read something once and quote it almost verbatim a couple of weeks later. He is a rapid reader and has a keen, analytical mind. He uses it in football, as well as in the classroom.

Last fall, for instance, the Scarlet practiced a particular set of defenses for Princeton, which uses the single wing. They worked well, holding the Tigers scoreless from scrimmage. Two weeks later, Rutgers faced Colgate. Alva Kelley, the Colgate coach, installed a special set of plays from a split formation which the Scarlet scouts had not seen.

Kroll, from his line-backing position, noticed the new Colgate setup in an instant, revised the defensive plans on the spot, and directed his mates into the Princeton defense. Colgate first swept to the right, then to the left, lost a yard each time, and the ball game was over. Rutgers went on to a 49-12 win.

Kroll operated in that fashion all year, constantly putting the Scarlet's defensive strengths against what he anticipated from the enemy.

Kroll has a gift for leadership. You can sense it in his voice, which is deep, clear and authoritative. You can sense it in his bearing, which is confident. And you catch it from his hustle and spirit.

In addition to being a heady line-backer and a sure tackler, Alex is a fine technician on offense. His blocks are effective, his snaps from center easy to handle, and his 6-2, 228-pound frame is imposing when he leads the team out of the huddle.

Rutgers had a great deal of success running the middle of the line last fall, thanks in part, to Kroll's fine blocking. Fullback Steve Simms and the quarterbacks usually could be counted on to pick up vital first down yardage over the middle.

Physically, Kroll can do everything the job description calls for. Mentally, he's got the poise, leadership and quick-thinking necessary to lead his mates and get their response. As far as the coaching staff is concerned, he's an unofficial "assistant."

In other words, he's an "All-American."

Rutgers Resigns From M.A.C.

Since 1958, Rutgers University has participated in the championship activity of the Middle Atlantic Conference, a group of 33 colleges and universities.

In 1958, Rutgers won the University Division football championship with a 4-0 record. In 1959, it fell to fourth place with a 2-2 mark but won again last season, with a 4-0 record.

The 1961-62 academic year will mark Rutgers' final official season in the M.A.C. in all sports, although it will continue to meet many of the conference teams. The University has found it impossible to meet the conference's scheduling requirements and at the same time maintain its relationships with traditional foes outside the conference.

As a result, Director of Athletics Albert W. Twitchell recently submitted the University's resignation from the conference, effective July 1, 1962.

The Middle Three

A new "Little Brass Cannon," donated by the Rutgers Alumni Club of Monmouth County, will be presented for competition among Lehigh, Lafayette and Rutgers this fall. Rutgers has been Middle Three champions the past three years. Lehigh held the Cannon in 1956 and 1957. Lafayette last reigned in 1955. The original trophy, established in 1940, "disappeared" while in Lehigh's possession.
